It is given out that the fish are being taken out of such waters as an added protection to the health of the people. Fishing is prohibited at both local lakes mentioned, so it is probable that they will come within the scope of the activities of the fish and game commission. Both lakes are used as reservoirs, one to supply drinking water to Wauregan, the other to Goodyear.

$6,000 ROBBERY!

Burglars paid a tribute to the merchandising policy when they broke and entered our store during the early morning hours of Friday, and carried off $6,000 worth of high grade Men's Suits, Overcoats, Silk Shirts and other high class apparel.

Professional burglars taking every risk of capture and of life itself, paid a compliment to this firm in selecting it for a raid, so disastrous to us. They wanted the best and knew where to come for it.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Notwithstanding our heavy loss, we wish to announce to the trade, that through co-operation with the other splendid stores of our system in the cities of Hartford, Willimantic and Putnam, we will be ready this morning to serve the trade with our accustomed satisfaction.

Unlimited selections of the newest creations in Men's Suits, Overcoats and all other lines. Quick action on Friday restored all lines to normal. Every department is complete as before the robbery. We are as proud of this as of the fact that burglars selected this store of all others in Eastern Connecticut for their raid.

The burglars cleaned out other cases filled with fall lines of silk chirts and high grade sweaters—and got away without a soul in the borough being aware of their presence.

Without a doubt the work was done by a clever band of professionals, and there seems not the slightest doubt that their loot was carried off in touring cars. Boldness characterized the entire oper-ation. The men worked at the front of one of the principal stores in the borough and must have made considerable disturbance in forcing open the heavy door, secured by a Yale lock. The door and the door casing is shattered below and above the lock and shows how a bar or heavy chisel was repeatedly applied before the lock was forced. There are tenants directly over the store and others in an adjoining building, yet none heard the raiders at work, either while they were getting in or during the lengthy stay they must have spent in the store to select and carry off the amount of goods checked as missing. The Ladies' Aid Society clam chowder supper at the town hall last Friday evening, netted a neat sum. The fact that the chowder was made by Charles A. Whitzaker was proof of its quality. Cake, ples, cheese and coffee completed the menu.

Col. and Mr. The fact that the store is select and carry off the amount of goods checked as missing. Street lights were burning the length of the business section and a night light was burning in the store, but notwithstanding these things the burglars made their clean-up and got away to what must have been a start of hours before the break was discovered.

An official investigation of how such a feat could have been accomplished undetected would be demanded it was stated Friday morning, when the borough was agog with comment over the affair.

It will be recalled that an attempt to rob the same store was made in August of last year and that thousands of doldish towels for the use of the society. Supper was served by candie light, the hostesses being assisted by the table committee.

Not a charge made in August of last year and that thousands of dollars would only grad made merchandise had been carefully bundled and was already to be carried away when Night Officer Martin Wolf discovered what was going on and caused the burgiars to fiee. After that experience the Church company further protected the rear entrances to its store with a heavy grating and shutters, making access through doors for windows very difficult. That burgiars would have the courage to raid the store from the front doll not seem a possibility, as the street is lighted all night and there is more or less passing of people at all hours. Fet the store was raided through a front door sometime during the early hours of Friday and the heavy than made.
